What We've Been Up To...

Easter Fun

Palm Sunday

A few months ago, a group of friends and I went out to lunch at the restaurant, Thai Thai II, on Main St. in downtown Bethlehem. It was the first time I had eaten at a Thai restaurant. My friends had to order for me- I didn't recognize anything on the menu. I'd like to think that, since meeting my wife a few years ago, she has sophisticated my tastes somewhat and expanded my horizons on the food front (I'm sure she would agree). But, the result of these culinary adventures has been a few uncomfortable, even unsettling experiences- staring at a whole Maine lobster and asking, "What am I supposed to do with this?"...learning the incorrect way to use chopsticks, attempting authentic Indian fare...even sampling caviar (that's fish eggs for the uncultured).

In a recent UCC Daily Devotional, pastor Vince Amlin describes some similar experiences when he says, "I think of the confusion and self-consciousness of sitting down to a meal I don't know how to eat. My first time negotiating crawfish or tamales. The discomfort of eating with my hands on low stools at an Ethiopian restaurant. The embarrassment of chewing on an edamame pod for minutes until I realized I was only supposed to eat the beans."

He goes on to talk about a restaurant in Pittsburgh called Conflict Kitchen. The restaurant changes its menu every 3 to 5 months or so, only serving food from countries that are or have been in conflict with the United States. Previous versions of the menu have included dishes from Palestine, North Korea, Afghanistan and Cuba. The most recent menu offered food from the Iroquois Confederacy, a Native American tribe from our own country. Diners could enjoy such selections as succotash, cranberry and juniper braised venison, and a root tea called Okdeaghi. In addition to the food, customers also learn Iroquois perspectives on such topics as Indigenous Sovereignty, economic and environmental conflict, and cultural erasure. As the mission of the restaurant states, "At Conflict Kitchen, we use food and innovative storytelling to engage the public in discussions about cultures and people that we often know little about." It's all about growth, and openness, and taking some risks.

I think that it's probably true that when it comes to table fellowship, we most often seek out the familiar- in terms of the food that we eat, and the rhythms and habits of our eating, and the kinds of people we sit down at the table with. We learn from a very early age- in the school cafeteria- that people sit down to eat with same kinds of people. In Jesus' day, this was even more pronounced. People didn't eat with people from other cultures, with people from different economic situations, with people from different social classes, and not just because of comfort and familiarity. Business relationships, economic opportunities, entire livelihood depended on eating with the right kinds of people.

Jesus, on the contrary, sat down at the table with whomever he liked. He demonstrated what scholar, John Dominic Crossan, calls, Open Commensality. Commensality comes from the Latin word, mensa, for "table." Basically, when it came to table fellowship, Jesus broke down any and all barriers that separated people from one another. And, of course, table fellowship was a microcosm for his entire ministry, in which he crossed borders into countries that were in conflict with his country of Judea, and told stories in which those foreigners were the heroes, and his countrymen were the villains. The Kingdom of God, Jesus taught, was not about familiarity, and comfort, and the status quo, but more about growth, and openness, and taking risks for the sake of the gospel.

I'm not suggesting that we serve Thai food at the next church dinner. But, when it comes to those church dinners... and Adult Fellowship, and Consistory meetings, and Vacation Bible School suppers, what I notice is that people sit and eat with the same people. Over and over again. What might happen if we decide to sit with someone new, if we decide to get to know someone different? How might that translate into our ministry? In our entire congregational life together, what might happen if we decided that growth, and openness, and taking risks were more important than ease, and comfort, and familiarity?

Blessings,
Pastor Bob

Food Bank

Thank you for continuing to remember the urgent needs which our food banks seek to address. Canned goods and other non-perishables are always in demand. Please bring anything you think would be appreciated. Consider donating spices. Spices allow cooks to add flavor to food without additional salt. Think about buying cumin, cinnamon, coriander, onion powder, garlic powder, cloves, oregano, basil, parsley, cayenne pepper, rosemary, thyme, bay leaves, or any other spices you commonly cook with.

Please keep your cans coming and place them in the pantry shelf. April's food of the month is baby items.

Trinity Soup Kitchen

Our next date to serve lunch is April 14th from 10:30-1:30. Please see Sharon Merluzzi with questions. We'd love to have you!

CPR Class

Ever wonder if you could help out if you saw someone collapse in front of you? Knowing how to perform CPR would certainly be beneficial if you ever found yourself in this type of situation. Forks UCC will be hosting a CPR class on Saturday April 14, 2018 at 9 AM which will include instruction, a manual, and hands on training to teach participants the necessary skills to perform adult, child, and infant CPR. Instruction in using an automatic external defibrillator (AED) will also be included. If you are willing to sacrifice 1 1/2 hours on a Saturday morning to learn the skills to help someone in need, please sign the sign up sheet in the social hall, or call Jeff Stoudt @ 610-863-8764 if you have questions. Cost is $30 per person.

Join the Team...Join the Walk...Help Find a Cure!

13 years! That's how long we have been representing Forks UCC at the American Cancer Society Relay for Life. This year the Nazareth, Slate Belt and Easton areas have joined together.

A lot has changed over the years, and yet every day people are still battling cancer.

Why we Support Relay For Life

Relay For Life is the signature fundraiser for the American Cancer Society. Relay is staffed and coordinated by volunteers in more than 5,200 communities and 27 countries. Volunteers give of their time and effort because they believe it's time to take action against cancer.

Forks UCC has participated for many years. The event brings the community together to remember loved ones lost, honor survivors of all cancers, and raise money to help the American Cancer Society make a global impact on cancer.

We hope you will mark your calendar with the dates and come over to walk a lap with us, spend time getting to know us or catching up in the tent, or just connecting with God and those loved ones in your life who have suffered from cancer.

Nazareth Middle School, 94 Friedenstahl Ave., Nazareth, PA

WON'T YOU JOIN US ON MAY 19TH AND 20TH AT BANGOR PARK?

We walk because no one should have to walk alone on their journey.

Having cancer is hard. Finding help shouldn't be.

American Cancer Society is available at 1-800-227-2345 (24/7) or cancer.org

Altar Flowers

If you would like to sponsor altar flowers, select your Sunday and affix your name and intention (“In honor of” or “In memory of” or “To the Glory of God”). The arrangements are $30. Another way of showing your love is to opt out of having flowers, rather choosing to have a single candle on the altar and your flower money will be donated to a charity of your choice. This is a powerful way to honor the day but make a difference in our world. Please make checks payable to “Forks UCC” with the notation “Altar Flowers”. Simply drop your payment in the offering plate. Thank you.
